Meet at the herb patch at Finnriver Cidery

124 Center Road, Chimacum, WA

Offering a fall series of growing medicinal herb workshops. At each workshop we will assess what work needs to be done that week, which plants are ready to harvest, which seeds to collect and learn first hand. Every week is different. The trainings will be held at our two farm sites at Finnriver Cidery and on North Jacob Miller Road near Port Townsend. We grow over 100 species of medicinal herbs, culinary herbs, vegetables, berries and trees between the two sites. We will meet at Finnriver to start each morning off. In inclement weather we will spend some time under a roof for processing or classes. Outdoors work will happen each time, so come prepared for the weather of the day. Pay at the door.

Bring gloves, work clothes and lunch.
