

Herb Stores in the Pacific Northwest

Compilation by Michael Pilarski,
January 1, 2016 Edition.

Following is a list of 36 herb stores in the Pacific Northwest that I am currently aware of. How many have I missed? The numbers keep growing. There were 24 stores in my 2011 edition and I can remember when there were less than 10. My definition of an herb store is that it has a primary focus on herbal medicine, sells bulk herbs (generally rows of gallon jars) and has knowledgeable herbalists on their staff. I have not included Chinese herb stores, but would like to include them in a future edition along with other Asian herb stores, Ayurvedic, Hispanic or other cultural herb stores. What is out there? This list does not include supplement stores and the many natural food stores which also sell herbal products, like food co-ops, PCC, Whole Foods, New Seasons, etc. For the herb stores listed here I have included address, phone, email and website for the most part. I have added the owner's name for the ones I know. This list runs from north to south geographically.
