MEDICINAL HERB GROWING & WILDCRAFTING SEMINAR

Fort Worden, Port Townsend, Olympic Peninsula

April 15-16, 2017
Saturday $90 - Sunday $70 - Both days $140
Barter accepted. A few scholarships available.
Free to S’Klallam tribal members and other Northwest tribes.

Farming Medicinal Plants
Saturday - 9:00 am to 9:00 pm.

Wildcrafting Medicinal Plants
Sunday - 9:00 am to 5:00 pm.

Taught by Michael Pilarski
Michael Pilarski has been commercially farming and wildcrafting medicinal plants for 22 years in the Maritime and Interior Pacific Northwest. There will be a wide range of reference books and dried herbs on display as well as books, seeds and propagation material for sale. This is a sequel to the 2016 Medicinal Herb Growing and Marketing Conference held at Fort Worden on April 15-17. A great conference with 450 people. This workshop is the 2017 place-holder for what will be another large conference in 2018.

Fort Worden is located on the northeast tip of the Olympic Peninsula where the deep waters of Puget Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca meet. Fort Worden features conference facilities, seashore and forest, stunning views, a range of accommodations, camping and good food. Scrumptious meals will be available from the Fort Worden Servery (separate fee).

Contact: Michael Pilarski, michael@friendsofthetrees.net, 360-643-9178
More Information: www.friendsofthetrees.net